The mother of Dr Jamroz Khan passed away in October 2009 (ILWIER). We all join together in offering our heartfelt condolences to Dr Jamroze Khan. May Allah SWT rest his mother's soul in eternal peace Aameen.

The sad news of sudden accidental death of Dr Mian Khalid Iqbal (a former faculty member of KSUCD) and his wife in September 2009 left us all in deep shock (ILWIER). Though, we in KSUCD were on summer vacation at that time, yet the news immediately spread among his former students and colleagues in Saudi Arabia. Resuming after the summer break, almost everybody expressed his/her condolence. Prayers were offered during various meetings for the deceased couple. Dr Mian Khalid Iqbal will be remembered for his professional excellence and gentle demeanors. I had the honor of working with him in KSUCD for several years. We attended and presented in several meeting together after he moved to US from KSUCD. We all (the dental community) join together in offering our condolences and support to Taimur Iqbal, the couple's son. May Allah SWT rest his parents' souls in eternal peace Aameen. We also pray that Allah SWT grants patience to Taimur Iqbal and other members of the grieved family Aameen.

The editor and members of the editorial board extend their heartfelt condolences to the bereaved family. May Allah grant him abode in Jannat (Ameen).

DR MIAN KHALID IQBAL(02.08.1954–11.09.2009)

Dr Mian Khalid Iqbal graduated from Khyber College of Dentistry (formerly Dentistry Department of Khyber Medical College, Peshawar). He was declared the best graduate for the session 1977-78 and was awarded Gold Medal by the University of Peshawar. In 1979 he started his career as lecturer at his mother institute. In 1982 he went to USA and obtained MS in endodontics from the University of Minnesota in 1984. From 1984-1986 he was attached to Meharry Dental College in Nashville, Tenn as Assistant Professor of Endodontics. From 1987-1999 he served as Assistant Professor at the College of Dentistry at King Saud University in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. In 2000, he joined the Department of Endodontics at Penn Dental Medicine, overseeing the postdoctoral residency program as the Director of Postgraduate Endodontics. In 2003 he also obtained DMD from Penn Dental Medicine. Since 2007, he held the position of Director of the Division of Advanced Dental Education, which encompasses the school's nine postdoctoral programs. "We called him a gentle giant. He was a dedicated teacher, loyal colleague, and a warm and kind human being", says Dr Syngcuk Kim, Chair of the Department of Endodontics.

Dr Khalid and his wife met a fatal accident on motorway near Mardan on 11th September 2009. He was on this way from USA to Peshawar to share the grief of his mother's death, with his younger brother and other family members. His tragic death stunned all those who knew him. He was one of those rare individuals who bring out the best in everyone around him and one of the finest individual I have ever known.

Most people walk in and out of our lives but good friends leave footprints in our hearts. May Allah rest the souls of Khalid and his wife in peace. Ameen.

Associate Editor of "PODJ" Dr Khalid Almas writes from USA.

Dr Khalid Iqbal was a gifted teacher, a kind human being, a loving father and husband, a great family person. He was lovingly called as a "gentle giant" by his colleagues because he was very tall and very soft spoken.

A well-published researcher and respected teacher, Dr Khalid Iqbal was the vice chair of the Evidence-based committee of the American Association of Endodontics and served on the editorial boards of the Journal of Endodontics, The Journal of Oral Rehabilitation, the Journal of Implant and Advances Clinical Dentistry, the Indian Journal of Medical and Dental Sciences, and the US Civilian Research and Developmental Foundation.

It is very painful to write an obituary of your student. Looking at the great struggle that Khalid made to reach to one of the top professional international positions, and his sudden and tragic death, the editor quotes the following verse of Allama Iqbal;

گشتن ہستی میں مانند نسیم ارزاں ہے موت کتنی مشکل زندگی ہے کس قدر آساں ہے موت

The editorial board of PODJ extends their heart felt condolences to the bereaved family particularly to his son Dr Taimur Iqbal. May the Blessing of Allah be upon them (Ameen).
